An exclusive look at the Marion Art Center

By Kenneth J. Souza

Thirty-five years ago when a theater troupe known as The Hornblowers needed a place to showcase their talent, they worked together to open what is now the Marion Art Center.

With help from area residents, the group took over the former Universalist Church built in 1830 and restored and converted the building to suit their theatrical needs.

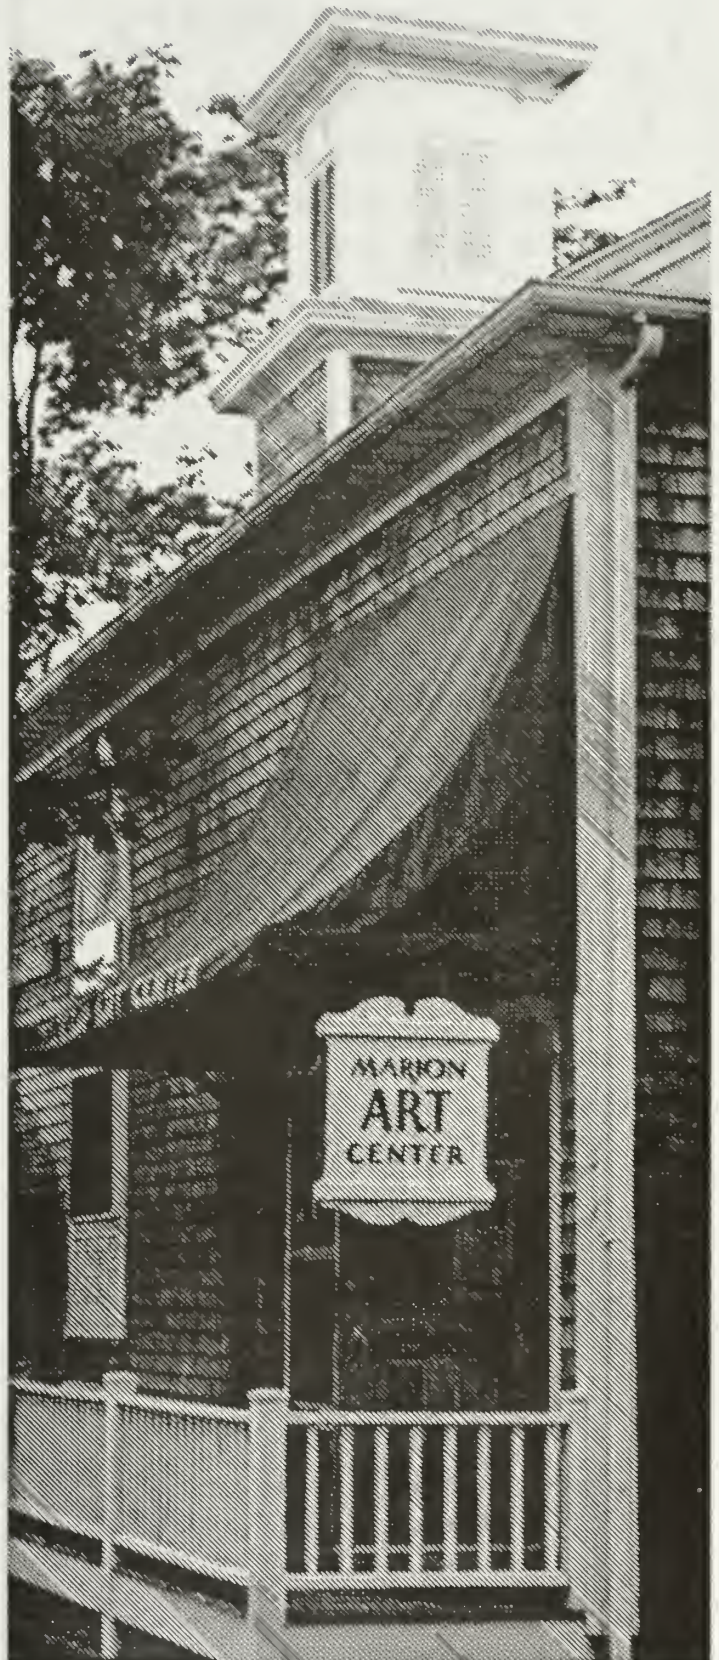

Today the thriving center located at the corner of Pleasant and Main Streets is not only home to area thespians, but also hosts painting classes, a summer art camp for children ages 5-9, and a revolving schedule of fascinating art exhibits.

According to Executive Director Wendy Bidstrup, this busy schedule would be impossible without the ardent support of the center's nearly 650 members and the devotion of area volunteers.

"We're lucky if we break even most times," Ms. Bidstrup said. "So the memberships and volunteers are extremely important to our survival."

Indeed the tax deductible annual membership fee — ranging from a basic membership of $25 to a corporate patron of $300 — is a small price to pay for a full menu of theater, culture and art. And since its inception, the center has continued to showcase the finest in both local and national talent.

The center's regular art collection boasts numerous works by Marion native Cecil Clark Davis who, although not as famous as her husband and contemporary Richard Harding Davis, was an elegant portrait artist in her own

Ms. Bidstrup explained how the couple married in Marion in 1899 when Richard was 35 and Cecil only 19. Their marriage was essentially "a platonic relationship" whereby they shared ideas and complemented each other's work.

But unfortunately the couple divorced ten years later, and Ms. Davis continued to live in her lavish 23-room mansion on Water Street until her death in 1955. The center has in its possession a mirror from the Davis home which has since been torn down.

Most of the stirring Davis portraitures hang in the cozy first floor theater where performances are staged on a regular basis.

In addition to a full slate of theatrical productions, the center opened an art gallery in 1964 which encompasses both a first floor and larger second floor area.

According to Ms. Bidstrup, the center has done quite well in promoting first time artists, which can often be difficult in larger galleries.

"They say that showing an exhibit for the first time is much like walking in public naked," she said. "When you show your work it's like exposing yourself."

Police to walk in area fundraiser

Seeking donations for American Cancer Society

Both full- and part-time members of the Mattapoisett Police Department will be participating in "Making Strides: The Terry Fox Run" on Sunday, September 20 beginning at 12:00 noon in New Bedford's Buttonwood Park.

The five-mile, non-competitive "move-along-athon" is a chance for people, including cancer patients, their families and friends, to raise money while working towards a way to beat the fatal disease.

Lt. James Santos met with American Cancer Society (ACS) representatives this week to discuss the department's involvement in the regional event. Mattapoisett police will be joining municipal groups from other area towns including Marion, Rochester, Acushnet, Fairhaven, Dartmouth and New Bedford for the annual event.

"The police department wants to support the efforts of the American Cancer Society in any way possible," Lt. Santos said. "I have a lot of faith that the town will pull together and help us with this effort."

Participating in the event along with Lt. Santos will be Safety Officer Paul H. Magee with help from International Brotherhood of Police Officers Local (IBPO) 336 representative Jeffrey Frates.

According to Officer Frates, the IBPO has already agreed to sponsor participating officers in the event.

Present to make the formal announcement at the police station this week were American Cancer Society representatives Lisa Lundy and Thomas J. Reilly III, along with Linda F. Camara, whom Lt. Santos cited as an example of someone whose life has been directly affected by the disease, but chooses to keep working toward a cure.

Anyone interested in either participating in the event or pledging support to an officer should contact Lt. Santos, Officer Frates or Officer Magee at the Mattapoisett Police Department.

Committee debates necessity of filling vacancy

By Kenneth J. Souza

A joint meeting of the Old Rochester Regional (ORR) District School Committee and the Massachusetts School Superintendency Union No. 55 took place on Tuesday, August 11 at 7:00 pm in the Mattapoisett Town Hall.

Superintendent Joan M. Walsh announced the pending resignation of Assistant Superintendent Robert Hicks, who is expected to accept a position as Superintendent in Greenwich, RI.

Superintendent Walsh then requested authorization to post the vacancy of Assistant Superintendent.

The regional committee motioned and seconded to authorize the posting. Mr. Peter Hodges of the Superintendency Union, however, motioned that the request be tabled in order to "enable the convening group to reexamine the staffing requirements of the superintendent's office and reevaluate the job description of the Assistant Superintendent."

Claiming that it would "provide the group with an excellent opportunity to look at the fiscal situation in light of the heavy overrides that the three towns have been asked to support," Mr. Hodges urged his fellow board members to curtail the posting of the position.

Mr. Hodges' motion was not seconded.

Although Mr. Hodges did not openly admit he wished the position abolished, he said that with the number of new people on the various committees, there may be an opportunity to see if there is an overlapping of responsibilities and see if some duties might be reassigned.

Both James Cain and Drew Jeffrey of Marion spoke in support of the Assistant Superintendent position, pointing to Mr. Hicks' excellent performance both in grant writing and contract negotiations, which the group generally seemed to support.

But Thomas Wynn of Rochester asked for an opportunity to wait on the posting of the position until he had time to fully examine the duties and responsibilities associated with the job.

Mattapoisett's Andrew Lynch also voiced concern over the reaction of his town voters with regards to future override requests.

Mr. Hodges also requested what the salary of the posted position would be and was told by Superintendent Walsh that it would be somewhere in $55,000 range. Mr. Hicks received approximately $53,000 a year as Assistant Superintendent.

After nearly an hour of haggling, the request made by Superintendent Walsh was finally approved unanimously by the District School Committee and almost unanimously approved by the Superintendency Union with sole opposition from Mr. Hodges.

Selectman Lambalot discussed an ongoing decision made by the board to allow liquor vendors to open on the Sunday before the Christmas holiday each year. According to Ms. Adams, the decision can be carried over and doesn't require a special permit or hearing on an annual basis.

With no further business to attend to, Selectmen Lambalot motioned to adjourn, which was seconded and made unanimous by Chairman DeCosta. The meeting was adjourned at 7:25 pm.

Thereafter, a meeting was set up at the Fire Station for August 12 at 7:30 pm for the Board of Selectmen (see August 10 meeting).

The selectmen then met with Frank W. Underhill Jr. Mr. Underhill updated the board on the funds received by the tri-town area in the amount of $90,000 for the soft second loan mortgage program. It was noted that Town Employees will be notified of the same through a letter which can be drafted on town letterhead furnished to the selectmen by Mr. Underhill.

A brief outline of the requirements involved was reviewed by Mr. Underhill with the selectmen. The additional paperwork will be provided when ready. Selectmen thanked Mr. Underhill for his information.

The board then noted correspondence received during the week.

A request came from Ernie Cote, manager of Olde Ruggles Inn, Inc. to extend business hours for August 5 and August 7. It was noted by selectmen that Mr. Colin McGraw who lives directly across the street from the store was present. Mr. McGraw complained of the customers leaving the premises and making enough noise to wake him up and also speeding off in their vehicles.

It was noted by Mr. McGraw that the music on Wednesday evenings is not a cause for concern, but when the patrons are leaving the premises. Mr. McGraw also mentioned the alarm system continually going off which creates noise and wondered if something could be done about it. The board stated they would inform Mr. Cote of the complaints and ask him to work with his customers to try to eliminate the problems.

A motion was made by Mr. Covas to grant the extension of hours for the two days. Ms. Roy seconded the motion with Chairman Brown making the vote unanimous. It was noted that a letter be sent to Mr. Cote advising him of the noise problem (see August 10 meeting).

The board noted a request from SRPEDD to support a Strategic Planning Grant they have applied for. A letter (draft) was provided for

The board reviewed an Automatic Amusement Device License for four machines located in the lower level of Olde Ruggles Inn. The fee for said machines would be pro-rated for six months. A question arose as to the possible necessity of a public hearing on the issue. It was noted in the past that a hearing had not been held when similar licenses had been issued by the board.

A question was also posed as to how many more machines could be located at the site in question. A lengthy discussion among the selectmen took place regarding past licenses of this type. A motion was finally placed on the floor by Chairman Brown. Ms. Roy seconded the motion. Mr. Covas voted no. The selectmen agreed Mr. Cote would be notified that no new machines may be brought onto the premises unless a license is obtained first.

Chief Denham spoke to the board relative to a publication in the new local paper, The Wanderer which noted an upcoming dance at The Grange to be sponsored by the Rochester Police Department. Chief Denham said he called the paper and explained that the notation was incorrect in that it was not sponsored by the Rochester Police Department, but is being done by a private sponsor.

Chief Denham commented that the idea was fantastic and we need more people to do this type of thing, but he wanted the issue cleared up about the sponsorship.

Chairman Brown brought a situation to the attention of the Police Chief and his fellow selectmen. It was noted that at the end of Dexter Lane the Sippican Rod and Gun Club is having a Corps of Engineers do work on their property. There is a private road adjacent to the work being done owned by a resident who asked that no parking be allowed on this private road due to emergency situations arising at times with elderly residents in her home. Chief Denham will contact the president of the gun club and get back to the board with the results.

There being no further business to attend to, a motion was made by Ms. Roy to adjourn. The motion was seconded by Mr. Covas and made unanimous by Chairman Brown. The meeting adjourned at 8:11 pm.

By Kenneth J. Souza

Editor's Note: Beginning this week, The Wanderer will be covering Rochester Selectmen's Meetings live as opposed to printing a transcription of the minutes. Therefore, you will find both last week's and this week's meeting in this edition.

The Rochester Board of Selectmen convened on Monday August 10 as Chairman Harry A. Brown Jr. called the meeting to order at 7:11 pm.

Present were Selectman L. Joseph Covas Jr., Selectman Lorraine R.C. Roy and Chief Administrative Secretary Shirley A. Ferreira.

The board was introduced to Bonnie Logan Tavares, a candidate for State Representative in the district.

Ms. Tavares outlined her credentials as a twelve-year Rochester resident and her work as director of the Big Brother/Big Sister Organization of Greater New Bedford.

She highlighted her experience in a variety of community service projects and her abilities at writing grant proposals, which she

of that for her district.

She also stressed the need to stop pitting senior citizens against the younger generation, a habit which has led to misconceptions about educational funding. Her main thrust is to get state officials in Boston to stop giving this region the short end of the stick in terms of priority funding.

Mattapoisett, Fairhaven and Lakeville make their voices heard and make their concerns known to the people in Boston," she said. "We also need to make our area appealing so that we can attract businesses to our district. Now is not the time for towns like Rochester to lay down and die."

Ms. Tavares pledged her "full-time commitment" to the region and offered to work hand-in-hand with each town's board of selectmen to achieve their individual goals.

Chairman Brown went on to read correspondence received during the week.

The first was a request for clarification of filing from Kevin W. Forgue of GAF Engineering Inc. regarding construction of a pond to provide water to farm animals on Ms. Judith Vandal's property. Although Chairman Brown said there is no requirement for a special permit in this case, both Mr. Covas and Ms. Roy agreed that a public hearing should be scheduled to notify abutters of the work to be done.

The board unanimously voted to schedule a public hearing on the matter for August 31.

Correspondence was received from the Conservation Commission regarding recent actions taken involving a certificate of compliance for William Garvey on Clapp Road, an order of conditions for A.D. Makepeace Co. on High Street, and an extension permit for Robert E. Demers of 14 Bishop Road.

A letter was addressed to the board from the Plymouth County Retirement Association regarding stipulations for Early Retirement Incentive.

The Town of Westport sent a letter to the board requesting their joining in a lawsuit regarding the commonwealth's reimbursement for state-owned land in different communities. Both Mr. Covas and Chairman Brown agreed to table the matter until next week pending further information.

Selectmen cited a letter from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) concerning a "violation of the federal Clean Water Act" which "may have occurred" on property located off of Dexter Lane.

The property in question, known as Tri-Cran, Inc., is presently under the Court-appointed trust of Harold W. Potter Jr., Esq., who is in the process of "selling the premises for the highest possible price."

Selectmen agreed to keep on top of the situation and find out if indeed the property is in violation of said act.

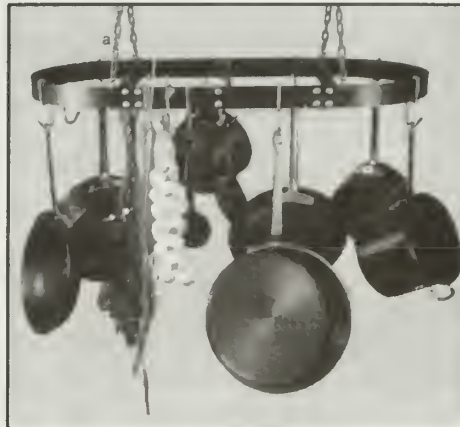

Chairman Brown read a letter from Kopelman and Paige, P.C. regarding public prayer at graduations and town meetings. According to the letter, Mr. Brown said that prayer at graduations is "not permissible" since students will often cave in to peer pressure and not follow their conscience, whereas prayer at a town meeting is "okay," because those who do not agree can ignore it or leave the room.

When asked by Mr. Covas if Chairman Brown would be leading the group in prayer every week, Mr. Brown said "this applies to town meetings, not board of selectmen meetings."

The board received another request from Ernest Cote, manager of Olde Ruggles Inn, Inc. for an extension of regular business hours to 12:00 midnight for August 12 and August 14.

After some lengthy discussion on the matter — during which the objections of a neighbor were mentioned from last week's meeting — Michael Forand, the town Wiring Inspector who was present at the meeting, brought up a recent inspection of the premises during which he and Building Inspector Robert C. Francis noted fifteen safety violations.

"The Olde Ruggles Inn is running essentially on extension cords," Mr. Forand said. "The cords are so bad that when you unplug them, they stay in the shape they were when plugged in."

Mr. Forand noted violations including a "dumb-waiter cord exposed," "cash register outlet overloaded," and "exposed (exterior) cable to sign."

With this additional information, Selectman Roy strongly urged that the request be denied.

"Until matters are rectified, I can't see

A motion was made by Ms. Roy and unanimously approved by the board that the extension be denied until all violations are corrected.

Chairman Brown noted meeting for the week, including:

- A Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) Hearing on Appeal for Wednesday, August 12 at 2:00 pm regarding the Blasenak property on Walnut Plain Road.

- A joint meeting of the Board of Selectmen and members of the Finance Committee to take place on Monday, August 17 at 8:00 pm to discuss the upcoming Special Town Meeting.

- A Board of Health hearing with SEMASS slated for Wednesday, August 12 at 8:00 pm regarding the siting of a new Transfer Station.

- Two Board of Appeals hearings slated for Thursday, August 27 at 7:30 and 8:00 pm regarding Robert G. Hartley of Snow's Pond Road and Kevin Blake of 173 Ryder Road, respectively.

- A joint meeting with the Board of Selectmen and the Fire/Ambulance Committee on Wednesday, August 19 at 7:30 pm to discuss recent bids submitted to the town for purchase of a new ambulance.

Chairman Brown next motioned that the board once again join the Massachusetts Municipal Personnel Association, a group which has afforded them a great deal of "assistance and information" over the years.

The motion was passed unanimously.

Another request for extension of regular operating hours to 12:00 midnight was made by Towne Pizza and Restaurant on Rounseville Road for Wednesday, August 12 through Saturday, August 15, to coincide with the carnival. The board unanimously approved the request.

Mr. Brown recognized Alan Stata's recent appointment to the Republican Town Committee and congratulated him. The board then approved and appointed election workers for the 1992-93 season, with Mr. Brown abstaining due to the fact that his wife was one of the appointees.

With no new business or old business to tend to, Mr. Covas made a motion that the meeting be adjourned, which was seconded by Ms. Roy and made unanimous by Chairman Brown.

The meeting adjourned at 8:51 pm.

During a post meeting discussion, Mr. Brown wanted to address a problem which had come to his attention just recently.

It seems that a rash of vandalism has broken out in town whereby people are placing promotional bumper stickers on caution signs and, in effect, defacing the property.

The stickers, boasting the logo of Boston's FM radio station KISS-108, have been placed on 40 to 50 town signs, which Mr. Brown finds appalling.

"I want it known that any person caught placing these stickers on the signs will be punished to the full extent of the law," Mr.

Brown said. "This defacement of town property is a direct violation of the Massachusetts General Laws and the town will prosecute and charge those responsible with the replacement of the signs."

The stickers, when removed, peel off both the paint and protective coating from the various signs that have been vandalized including "ONE WAY" and "STOP."

The promotional stickers are generally provided free of charge and are widely available at area vendors.

Both Mr. Brown and Mr. Covas agreed that it is probably just kids playing practical jokes, but these "innocent" jokes are costing the town money.

Rochester police have been advised of the problem and will take special care to watch out for those responsible for the vandalism.

Friends Meeting House

Meetinghouse to Museum

A tin document box marked "Long Plain Preparative Meeting," a rare 1774 History of the Quakers, and a brass shoe buckle found in the graveyard and dating from the Revolution are among the first artifacts in the incipient Quaker Museum, now being set up at the Long Plain Friends Meetinghouse, 1341 Main Street, Acushnet.

Other items include the entire 452-volume First Day School library, mostly dating from 1870 - 1895, an 1880 Bible and photographs illustrating the history of the building.

Still a long way from being considered a full-fledged museum, the Friends of the Friends Meetinghouse are looking for donations (or loans) of Quaker artifacts, clothing, documents, papers, books, etc. Also needed are mannequins to be clothed as nineteenth century Quaker elders and exhibited in the sanctuary, and display cases to properly exhibit the collection.

Known locally to old-timers as "the Quaker Church," the Meetinghouse, virtually abandoned for the last 25 years, has taken on a new life. Almost completely restored, and rededicated as a historical landmark in October 1991, it is now open to the public every Saturday and Sunday afternoon — 1:00 to 4:00 pm — of the summer through the weekend of the Acushnet Apple-Peach Festival, Saturday and Sunday, September 12 and 13. Hours during the Festival are 10:00 am to 4:00 pm.

Opened in 1759 as a Quaker house of worship, the venerable building survived the American Revolution, and all of America's wars to the present day. Following its pacifist tenets, it sent almost none of its sons to fight, but instead served the country in peaceful pursuits of public service both at home and abroad.

By 1965, there were almost no Quakers left in the area and the old Meetinghouse no longer rang to the traditional Quaker "silent service" every Sunday.

Twenty years later, a group of Acushnet residents, concerned at the rapid deterioration of the town's foremost historical treasure, arranged to have the property transferred to the town, which undertook to restore and maintain it.

Now listed on the National Register of Historic Places (it is the oldest Quaker Meetinghouse in the area) and with the combined efforts of the Acushnet Historical Commission, the Acushnet Historical Society and the Friends of the Friends Meetinghouse, principal restoration is complete, although a number of minor projects still remain to be done.

A forthcoming project will be the restoration of the old wood shed/two-holer. A shingling party is being planned for the fall, with all the work to be done by volunteers.

The Friends of the Friends Meetinghouse support the effort by holding fundraisers, providing the annual Carol Sing series and Music at the Meetinghouse. The "Friends of the Friends" have also been manning the

Veterans' Services

If you are planning to enroll in school this fall using veterans Administration (VA) education benefits, John Montgomery, Director of Providence VA Regional Office, has a checklist to help keep those benefits coming regularly.

Register Early, the VA and your school need time to process your registration so that education benefit checks can begin promptly.

Check your courses to be certain they will count toward your educational program. The VA will not pay for courses that don't count towards your goal.

Apply for your education benefits as early as possible.

Avoid dropping courses after classes begin.

Notify the VA of any change in your status — change of address, reduction in course load, last day of attendance, reason for interruption and date you expect to return to school.

Students receive $350 per month under the Montgomery GI Bill if enrolled full-time. Certain veterans eligible for a combined Vietnam and Montgomery GI Bill will receive $538 per month if single with additional allowances for dependents.

Veterans using the Veterans Educational Assistance Program are paid a monthly rate based on their contributions while in service with no additional allowance for dependents. Eligible Reservists and National Guard personnel will receive $170 if enrolled full-time.

Veterans needing more information about VA education programs are encouraged to visit the Providence Regional Office, 380 Westminster Mall, Providence, Rhode Island or call 273-4910 or toll-free 1-800-827-038.

National Service Life Insurance

The variable loan interest rate for National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) policy loans will be reduced to 7 percent on October 1, 1992. The interest rate on NSLI policy loans is based on an economic indicator, The U.S. Treasury Securities Ten Year Constant maturities. Variable loan rates are revised each October, based on this indicator, but by law will never exceed 12 percent. Older loans with fixed rates of 4 percent and 5 percent are not affected.

Veterans with permanent insurance may borrow up to 94 percent of the cash value of their policy. In the event of a veteran's death, the outstanding loan balance is deducted from the face value of the policy. Loans may be repaid by direct remittance or by using annual insurance dividends.

For further information on insurance loans, contact the VA Regional Office, 380 Westminster Mall, Providence, Rhode Island 02903 at 273-4910 or call toll-free 1-800-827-0389.

Silver-Haired Legislature

A statewide election for the Massachusetts Silver-Haired Legislature will be held during the week of September 21 - 25.

Local place, day and time will be announced, if local candidates take out nomination papers.

Massachusetts senior citizens aged 60 or older, currently registered voters, residing in the districts they seek to represent, and who are willing to serve are encouraged to run for the two-year term.

The Silver-Haired Legislature was established in the Commonwealth in 1980 to provide an educational and advocacy/training action program for the elderly. It is a grass-roots, non-partisan organization dedicated to promoting the well-being of the elderly and their families. Patterned after the General Court of the Commonwealth, its members consist of 40 Senators and 160 Representatives elected from the same districts as the General Court. It is the only advocacy group whose members are elected by their peers.

Candidates for the 1993-94 session of the Legislature must file nominating petitions, certified by the local election commission, that at least 25 of the signers meet the residency, age, and registration requirements. These must be submitted to the Legislature office by August 14.

Nomination petitions are available at the tri-town COA offices. For local information, call Rochester COA at 763-8723; Mattapoisett COA at 758-4110; or Marion COA at 748-3570.

Globe Theater Troupe, Inc.

The Globe Theater Troupe, Inc. continues its 5th Anniversary Season with another Dinner & Theater Combination at the Rochester Woman's Club, Route 105 (exit 20 off Route 195) in Rochester, featuring one of Neil Simon's newest comedy hits Rumors.

Opening night is Friday, August 14 and performances continue Saturday, August 15, Wednesday, August 19, and Friday and Saturday, August 21 and 22, at 8:00 pm.

Two matinee performances will be held on Sundays, August 16 & 23, at 2:00 pm. At the Old Ruggles Inn, located directly opposite the Woman's Club, dinner will be served starting two hours before each performance. This summer, for the first time, a reduced price dinner and theater combination is being offered to senior citizens and students.

A choice of two new entrees will be offered this summer. Combination tickets are $13 for regular admission and $11.50 for seniors and students. Theater tickets only are still $7.50 for regular admission and $5.50 for seniors & students. Reservations are required for all tickets this year. Reservations will be held until 15 minutes before curtain. For information and reservations call 291-0865.

Rumors marks Neil Simon's return to non-autobiographical comedy, although who is to say there is not a bit of the playwright in each and every one of his plays. The play follows the hilarious antics of eight dinner guests who arrive at an anniversary party to find their hosts somewhat indisposed. What has happened to Charlie and Myra? That's what Cassie, Chris, Claire, Ken, Lennie, Ernie and Glenn are trying to figure out before anyone else does.

Playing the party guests are Susan Shaw of Mattapoisett, Anne Schenck of Marion, Charmayne Mc Kenzie and Joe Richards of Falmouth, Lauren Podesta of Weymouth, Michael Hall and Michael Ventura of Wareham and Richard Pacheco of New Bedford. Also of New Bedford are Stephen Gonchar and Karen Jenkins, who portray two police officers.

Directing the August play this year is Mr. Richard Delongchamps of Middleboro. Mr. Delongchamps is a recent winner of the
